Re: Cease and Desist Harassment and Defamatory Actions

Dear Mr. Fisher,

I am writing to you on behalf of AmeriStar LLC regarding your persistent and unwarranted harassment of our employees and the dissemination of false and defamatory statements about our company.

It has come to our attention that, despite being denied an AmeriStar investment account on the grounds of not meeting accredited investor criteria, you have continued to harass our employees through phone calls and text messages. Furthermore, your actions include the posting of weekly updated reviews on TrustPilot, wherein you make baseless accusations against AmeriStar, claiming fraudulent operations and misappropriation of investors' funds.

We want to emphasize that your refusal to complete a basic SEC accredited investor form, which would have assisted in verifying your accreditation status, was a key factor in the denial of your AmeriStar investment account. AmeriStar is committed to maintaining the highest standards of integrity, and we will not compromise on the security and compliance measures that ensure the protection of our investors.

Your actions, including the repeated harassment of our employees and the dissemination of false information, are unacceptable and damaging to our reputation. We demand that you cease and desist from any further communication or action that may harm AmeriStar and its employees immediately.

Failure to comply with this cease and desist order will leave AmeriStar with no option but to pursue legal action against you and your company, Vitality Integrative Medicine. We take this matter seriously, and we are prepared to take all necessary steps to protect the reputation and integrity of AmeriStar.

This letter is not intended as a complete statement of our rights, legal or otherwise, in connection with the actions you have taken. AmeriStar expressly reserves all rights and remedies available at law or in equity.

For your own reference, attached to this Cease and Desist are recent (February-01-2024) communications that you have had with AmeriStar employees, despite being denied an AmeriStar account on January 4th, 2024.

We expect your prompt compliance with this cease and desist order.

Sincerely,

Myr Mendoza
AmeriStar Compliance

Jeremy,

Actually, the firm that conducts accreditation checks can do a soft check, with just an email. Legally, its not as if we can just accept an investors word as truth that they are a accredited investor with dealing with a 506(c) issuance.

We do of course provide our information on our offering, our prospectus is available freely to download on our website.

Unfortunately we cannot accept you as an investor if we cannot verify that you are an accredited investor. In the near future, we will most likely roll out a Regulation A Offering that will have no such constraints.

I would advise you to subscribe to our mailing list to be kept informed.

Kind regards,

Once I verify the legitimacy of your company by having you share the information requested, I'll be happy to fill out the form to prove my accreditation - sharing sensitive information such as social security number etc with you isn't a good idea until then.

You said "we cannot accept you as an investor if we cannot verify that you are an accredited investor." I'm NOT asking you to accept me as an investor prior to proving accreditation. However, as mentioned, there is no requirement to prove accreditation prior to sharing information about 506(c) offerings. Accreditation is only needed in order to actually initiate the investment relationship. So you can first share the requested information, THEN I can provide information to prove accreditation, and THEN I can create an investment account with you. Sound good?
